01 NOT all about criticism

Feedback is a blend of both commendation and guidance.

It's not just about identifying flaws; it's about recognizing strengths and nurturing improvement.

NOT a Sole Responsibility 02

Many believe that giving feedback rests solely on the shoulders of leaders or managers.

In truth, feedback should flow freely across all levels of an organization

03 NOT a One-Time Occurrence

Feedback isn't a fleeting moment; it's a continuous journey.

It's not confined to annual reviews or sporadic meetings.

Regular feedback is like tending to a garden—it requires consistent care and attention to flourish.

NOT a Solo Act

Effective feedback is a two-way street.

It's not just about telling; it's about listening, understanding, and collectively shaping growth.

05 NOT Always Formal

While structured feedback has its place, informal feedback often gets overlooked.

It's not just the official reviews that matter; the spontaneous conversations and quick appreciations contribute to a culture of growth.
